Summary

Freelance .NET web developer with more than 15 years professional experience with web development, working on projects for Nuon, Waternet, NIKE, IKEA, Kellogg's, Danmarks Radio, Louis Poulsen, Contour Design and many many others.

Specialized in Episerver CMS and Umbraco CMS and have an excellent understanding of most other content management systems.

I thrive being part of a team with experienced colleagues as well as working independently taking on the broader responsibilities of an assignment. I have worked on small and ad-hoc tasks to very large projects in organizations with multiple Scrum teams. I am experienced with the DevOps principles and practices.

I am very passionate about my work. I work fast and adapt fast, and I deliver! I actively help to lift the projects I am involved in and work independently, knowledgeable and focused. I will be a valuable asset to your project or team.

Skills

Below you will find a selection of the most relevant and important skills I have acquired during my time working as a professional web developer. The complete list is much longer.

I have worked with Microsoft .NET my entire career, and specialized in implementation and development with Umbraco CMS and Episerver CMS. That makes me an excellent choice for any .NET based project.

My roles and responsibilities have varied from project to project: Mostly I was a Backend or Full-Stack developer part of a Scrum team. I am very experienced with Scrum and I have worked with the DevOps principles on multiple occasions.

Additionally, I have managed apps and hosting on Microsoft Azure and done continuous integration and delivery on Microsoft Azure DevOps.
